AN ACT relating to claims against the State; providing for the recovery of attorney’s fees and litigation expenses by prevailing parties in criminal actions under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

1 Under what is commonly called the “American Rule,” each party to a legal 2 proceeding is generally expected to pay its own attorney’s fees and litigation
3 expenses regardless of the outcome of the case. Federal law, however, establishes 4 an exception to the American Rule that enables a party who is acquitted or 5 otherwise prevails against the Federal Government in a criminal action, and who 6 meets certain eligibility requirements, to recover some or all of the attorney’s fees 7 and other litigation expenses incurred by the party if a court determines that the 8 Federal Government’s position in the action was vexatious, frivolous or in bad 9 faith. Federal law also requires that any award must be paid by the particular 10 agency of the Federal Government over which the party prevailed. (Act Nov. 26, 11 1997, Pub. L. No. 105-119, § 617, 111 Stat. 2519 (codified as 18 U.S.C. § 3006A 12 note))

13 This bill adopts various provisions, modeled after federal law, to enable eligible 14 parties that prevail over the State of Nevada in a criminal action to recover some or 15 all of their attorney’s fees and litigation expenses if a court finds that the position of 16 the State in the criminal action was vexatious, frivolous or in bad faith.
